

TOTAL Participation Techniques <sup>2nd Edition</sup>

In the pages that follow, you will find a printable version of the materials from Appendix B in Total Participation Techniques: Making Every Student An Active Learner 2nd ed., by Pésida Himmele and William Himmele.

Appendix B: Posters and Tools

This appendix contains tools and mini-posters that are on-the-spot reminders about adding TPTs when you are teaching and planning lessons. Some of the posters are conceptual in nature. They remind you to ripple or that the question stem, “Who can tell me . . . ?” can be improved upon by adding individual accountability.

The lists are aimed at reminding you of TPTs that take minimal preparation. Post them in places that will help you to remember to use them and refer to this book as a reminder about how each technique works.

1. The TPT Quadrants
2. The Ripple
3. Think Before You Ask, “Who can tell me . . . ?”
4. Quick TPTs for Early Childhood Classrooms
5. No-Prep and Low-Prep TPTs
6. Bounce Cards
7. Appointment Agendas
8. Hold-Up Cards
9. The Trust Poem

Readers may duplicate items in Appendix B for noncommercial use within their school. Downloadable versions of some forms are available at this URL: www.ascd.org/ASCD/pdf/books/himmele2017.pdf

THE RIPPLE

The Ripple is a cornerstone to understanding how to create and implement Total Participation Techniques.

The Ripple IS a way of posing questions to maximize actual learning time.

The Ripple IS NOT a traditional Q & A session.

The Ripple IS a way to engage each and every student.

The Ripple IS NOT calling on an individual student for the answer.

The Ripple IS all students responding to a prompt using Quick-Writes or other TPT structures.

The Ripple IS NOT simply group work.

The Ripple IS beneficial for all students, especially English language learners, socially tentative students, and students with special needs.

The Ripple IS NOT intimidating and does not put students “on the spot.”

Think, before you ask, “Who can tell me...?”

Who can tell me... ?

Remember to Ripple!

Calling on someone should be the last thing that you do.

Bounce Card

Bounce

Take what your classmate(s) said and bounce an idea off of it. For example, start your sentence with

“That reminds me of . . . ”

“I agree, because . . . ”

“True, another example is when . . . ”

“That’s a great point . . . ”

Sum It Up

Rephrase what was just said in a shorter version. For example, you can start your sentences with

“I hear you saying that . . . ”

“So, if I understand you correctly . . . ”

“I like how you said . . . ”

Ask a Question

Understand what your classmates mean by asking questions. For example, you can start your questions with

“Can you tell me more about that?”

“I see your point, but what about . . . ?”

“Have you thought about . . . ?”

The Trust Poem

I trust you!

I trust that you want to learn.

I trust that you have
amazing things to share,
and I'm going to shape
opportunities so that you can share them.

I trust that you can learn from each other.

I trust that our collective differences make us all a bit smarter.

I trust that if you trust yourself,
the best in you will come out.
